

Three Questions for Worship Leaders, part 2

Every week God gives us the opportunity to create an environment where lives are changed forever! To really be intentional about creating that environment, we must ask ourselves three questions:

First, what do I want people to _____?

Second, what do I want people to _____?

Third, what do I want people to _____?

Answering these three questions helps us fulfill God's vision and mission for our churches. And it's always good when going through this exercise to have a clear idea of the vision and mission of your specific ministry.

What is the vision and mission of our church?

What is the vision and mission of our specific ministry?

Every person in our worship environment is in a battle, and we can help lead them through it to Christ. As worship pastors, we need to feel the weight of this responsibility and calling.

What are two or three things you want every leader to FEEL when they serve in the worship experience?

- 2.
- 3.

What is one practical thing you can apply this week to help every leader FEEL with clarity what they are there to accomplish?

Engagement grows when connection grows. We have to find ways to connect people right where they are.

What are two or three things you want every attender to FEEL during the worship experience?

- 2.
- 3.

Am I creating an environment that reaches the people we are called to reach in our community? Have I created opportunities to interact with newer people in our church? Have I asked them for their feedback?

What is one practical thing you can apply this week to help every attender FEEL what you want them to feel?

Discussion Questions

1. What moment in your life as a follower of Christ moved you deeply?
2. How can you create an environment for others to have those same kinds of moving experiences?
3. Do your leaders know how you feel about this ministry? Do they know the impact they've had on attenders lives in your church? When is the last time you told a story of life-change to your leaders or attenders to remind them how good God is and how important they are?
4. As leaders, we are the CROs (Chief Reminding Officers) of our ministries. We must continually remind our leaders and attenders that they're important. What is something simple you could do this weekend to make sure your leaders and attenders know how you feel about them?
